FROM THE CHAIR

FOR MORE THAN 70 YEARS, the Goleta Chamber of Commerce has proudly served the Goleta Valley. We are the voice for business and the heart of our community.

The Chamber is focused on a variety of long-range business issues that enhance our quality of life, including housing, transportation, water supply, regulation and workforce development.

We also remain invested in important community issues such as protecting Goleta Beach Park and strengthening the business climate in Old Town Goleta.

We strive to work on the things that matter and make a difference in the Goleta economy, and ways that business and government come together to improve our business opportunities.

We are enthusiastic promoters of our great community. We continue to look at the benefits of tourism to our local economy and are proud of the success of GoGoleta.com, Goleta's premier visitor website. And we can't wait to celebrate the Chamber's 28th Annual Goleta Lemon Festival on September 28-29, 2019.

To our members: Thank you for your trust in the Goleta Chamber of Commerce. Without your support, we would not have the impact on business and the community that we do.

Bill Macfadyen
Chair of the Board

FROM THE PRESIDENT

GOLETA IS A GREAT PLACE TO LIVE, work and visit. Goleta's beautiful parks and beaches, thriving businesses and good schools offer the best of life. The community is interconnected between retail and industrial sectors, education, non-profits, high tech business and its agricultural history. It has the friendliness of a small town with access to big city activities nearby.

The mission of the Goleta Chamber of Commerce is to provide leadership that promotes our community's vibrant quality of life, where businesses, residents and visitors thrive.

We are proud to have a thriving, world class high-tech sector in this beautiful coastal city. We are home to many bio-medical, software and space-related business and are the infrared capital of the world.

Visitors love Goleta. On the Coast, Down to Earth, and enjoy many outdoor interests, ocean water sports, hiking, biking or golfing; there is something for everyone on a year-round basis. And check out our annual two-day Lemon Festival and nearby wine tasting!

Please take the time to learn more about Goleta by exploring our magazine, visiting our website, GoletaChamber.com and connecting with us on Facebook and Instagram.

See you in the Good Land!

Kristen Miller
President & CEO

Behind the Scenes

The Harwood kids, Jack and Skyler crash their parents' photoshoot.

The 2019-2020 Goleta Magazine celebrates Goleta's history, culture, businesses and volunteers who make our community so special. We did a variety of unique photo shoots to capture each of these individuals enjoying Goleta.

THE COVER

We shot the cover of the magazine at Rancho La Patera & Stow House. Dacia and Riley Harwood were photographed having a picnic in the gardens in front of the house. Our goal was to celebrate Goleta's heritage while showcasing our beautiful parks and outdoor living.

Fun fact: Dacia worked for Goleta Valley Historical Society for 13 years. See page 16 for more.

MIYE OTA

The original Aikido Ki martial arts studio and cultural school is still active today in Old Town Goleta located at 255 Magnolia Ave. Miye was photographed inside the studio with her son and close friends.

WYATT TECHNOLOGY

Wyatt Technology is a very pup friendly place to work. One of their mascots, Theia, was photographed during our shoot. See page 10.

Community Leader in the Good Land

WHEN ERIC ONNEN rolled into Goleta in the late 1970s to attend UC Santa Barbara, the Iowa native knew he never wanted to leave. So for the last 41 years, Goleta has been Onnen's home. And even though he and his wife, Kelly, have a new grandchild—their first—in Arizona, he doesn't have plans to relocate anytime soon.

"Once I got to Goleta, my No. 1 priority was staying in the area," he said, noting he was first introduced to the community during a weekend trip to look at colleges. "I just loved it here."

Onnen initially was drawn to Goleta's outdoor lifestyle. "It was attractive to live that way," he said, adding that he still loves everything about Goleta, including the "way it looks, feels and smells."

Onnen says he relishes the decades he has spent giving back to the community, as well as the long-standing, lifelong relationships he's formed.

A 33-year member of the local Rotary Club, he also has served on the board of the Goleta Chamber of Commerce, has been a member of the Goleta Planning Commission, and was elected to the City Council, serving one term that included a year as mayor. "It's a fundamental of this community," Onnen said about giving back.

Prior to co-founding his own business—Santa Barbara Airbus—he envisioned that he'd follow in his family's footsteps and become a butcher.

He worked at a local meat counter during college and for some time after. It was there he began developing those community relationships.

"The people are so warm...and I got to know a lot of people," Onnen explained. "That was when you helped customers at the counter. You always saw everybody on special occasions."

"It was a supportive and satisfying experience to do business on that level."

While working in the meat business, Onnen met his wife of 37 years, who was a flight attendant. Her home base was in Winnipeg, Manitoba, but the newlyweds lived in Goleta. Needless to say, Onnen spent a lot of time on the road getting Kelly to and from LAX.

During a trip to visit her family in Canada, Onnen took a bus service to get to the airport to fly home. He realized California—Santa Barbara County, to be precise—needed something similar.

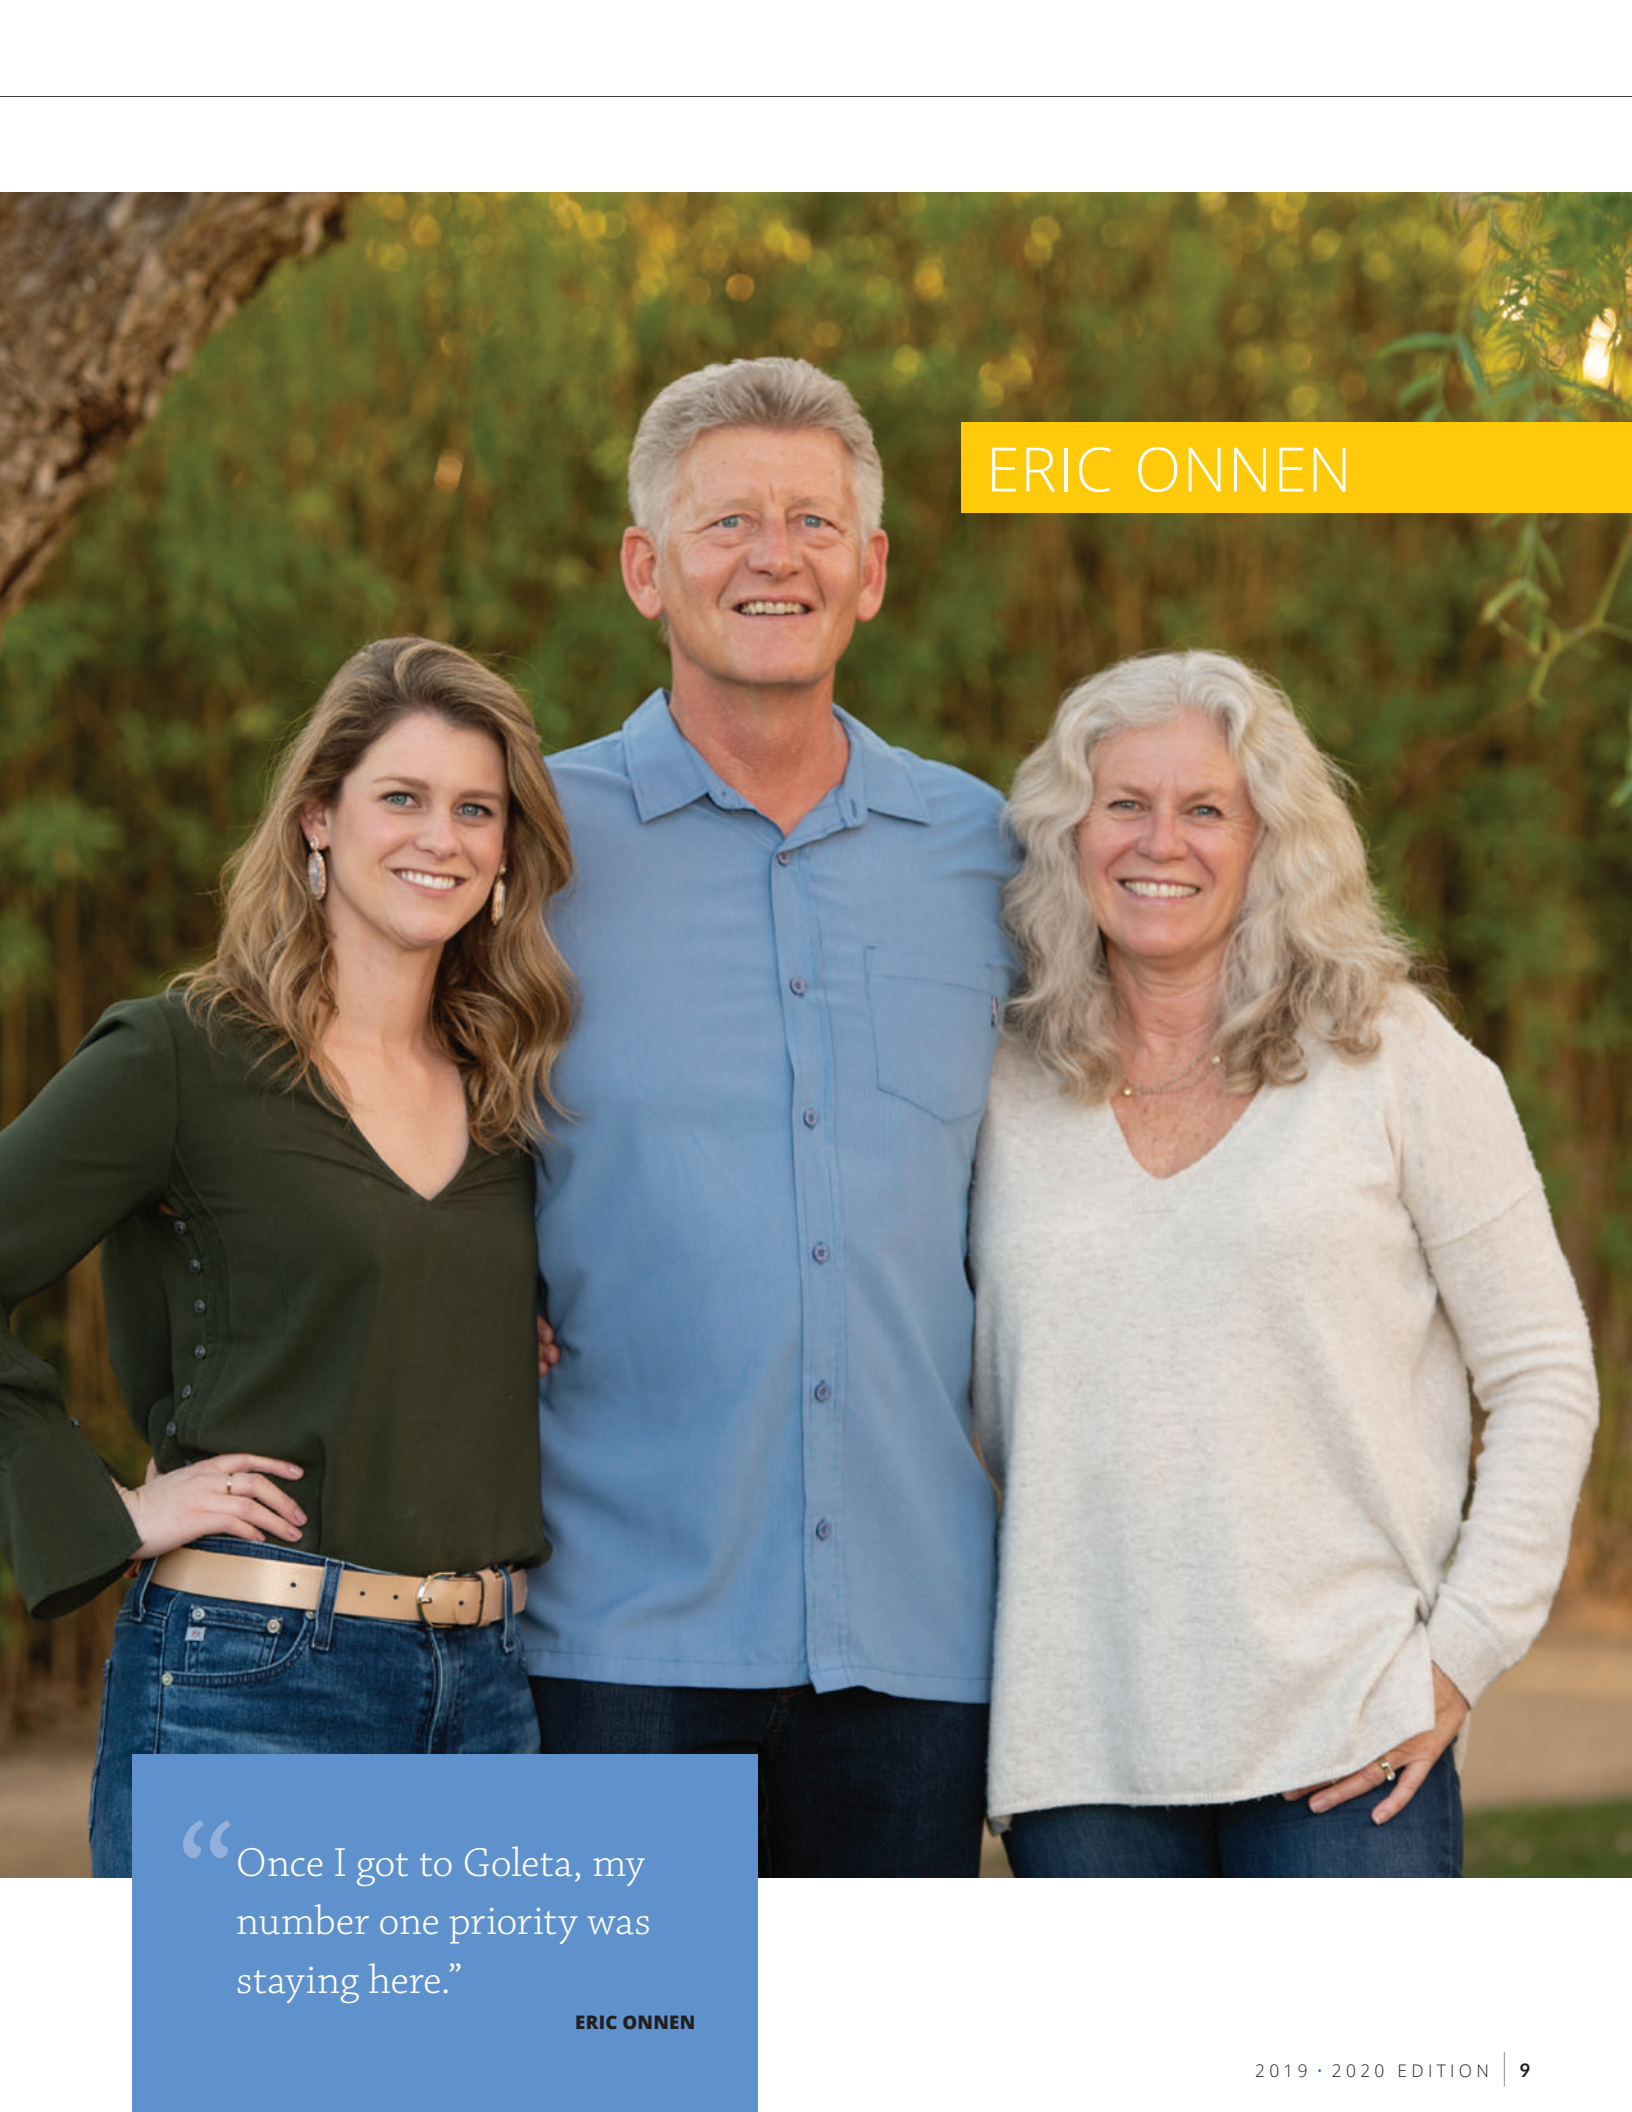

"It kind of slapped me in the face," he said, noting that Santa Barbara Airbus' service to and from LAX is still the basis of the company that has grown from being operated out of a spare bedroom in the couple's condo and no paid employees to what it is today.

Founded in Goleta in 1983, the company employs 60 people and has a fleet of more than 20 buses, motor-coaches and minivans.

“There is not a pharmaceutical manufacturer that doesn’t have our instruments—most of the world’s vaccines exist because of Wyatt Technology.”

PHIL WYATT

Founder Wyatt Technology

WHEN PHIL WYATT ANSWERED a phone call several decades ago on a business line he kept alive for a dead company, he didn’t expect the caller would forever change the life of Goleta’s best-known physicist.

He was wrong.

The call led to the founding of Goleta-based Wyatt Technology, a family-owned company that has grown to employ about 140 people today and is a leading developer and manufacturer of laser-based light scattering and related instrumentation...in the world.

“There I was in 1981, sort of unemployed,” Wyatt recalled about the closure of his first business venture in Santa Barbara County. That company, Science Spectrum, shut down after about 20 years of operation because he couldn’t compete with the big pharmaceutical companies, their money or patent attorneys at the time.

Wyatt recalled taking his family on a cruise to “forget all the misery of starting a great company that died” and as the vacation ended, he received a call on the Science Spectrum line. “I never changed that phone number,” he said. “It was a call from the Department of Defense. I had won a contract.”

Wyatt took the contract—using a laser to determine whether liquids, such as water, contained carcinogens, mutagens or metabolic poisons—and ran with it. He has never looked back. “We study molecules and particles. Sounds exciting, doesn’t it?” the 87-year-old quipped, adding work done at Wyatt Technology turned out to be more exciting that anyone thought.

Local Company Making Global Change

“There is not a pharmaceutical manufacturer that doesn’t have our instruments,” he added, noting most of the world’s vaccines also exist because of Wyatt Technology.

“It turned out to be a pretty amazing company,” he said. “This took a long time to develop slowly.”

Wyatt Technology, whose headquarters are at 6300 Hollister Ave. across from the Santa Barbara Airport, also has offices in France, Germany and Great Britain.

“It has kind of been a dream...pretty wonderful to see our instruments used throughout (the world),” Wyatt said, noting he never gave much thought to a career in science as a young boy, growing up in the cold of Chicago. “I suppose I could have picked an easier subject.”

He also worked at becoming a science astronaut and was one of 16 accepted to the 1960s-era government-sponsored program. In the end, though, Wyatt didn’t make it to outer space. He did, however, make it to Goleta and doesn’t plan on ever leaving.

“Goleta is a wonderful little town and it’s going to grow rapidly,” he said.

Wyatt’s son, Geof, now serves as the company’s chief operating officer, with Wyatt as chairman of the board. Another son also works at the company, while his daughter is an accomplished sculptor.

“I love Goleta, it’s my home...it’s changing all the time, but I just love it.”

MIYE OTA

THE 100-YEAR-OLD MIYE OTA’s accomplishments as a female entrepreneur behind a thriving beauty salon in Old Town Goleta and visionary civic leader was instrumental in the city’s development.

A smiling Miye recalls incredible success stories and she has a go-getting spirit, with her gold dancing shoes on and her heart open. Her decades-long legacy impacted people long before Goleta incorporated.

She grew up outside Guadalupe near the Oso Flaco Lake and she is a second-generation Japanese-American. Her father farmed sugar beets and built houses in the area. She attended grammar school and graduated from Santa Maria High School.

Miye and her siblings were taken from their home and sent to live at the Gila River camp surrounded by barbed-wire fences and a guard tower in Arizona. She offered free haircuts to men and women, and met her late husband, Kenji, at the internment camp during World War II.

Before moving back to the Central Coast, the two were married in 1944 after they were released and resided in Philadelphia, where Miye opened a beauty salon. The couple settled in Goleta. Miye used her pre-war beauty school training to start her business, “Beauty by Miye.”

She was known for her fine styling skills, and it became the go-to spot for regular customers like the Hollister and Stow family members, and other prominent individuals. The beauty parlor was a gem in Old Town for decades.

WOMAN OF THE YEAR

Goleta's Miye Ota Celebrates 100 Years

"At first nobody came, but I put sketches in the window of the hairdos," Miye said. "One-by-one, people starting coming because they saw the hairdos."

Miye's husband, Kenji, established the Aikido Ki martial arts studio and cultural school, located at 255 Magnolia Ave., with his wife, and also taught ballroom dancing classes at UC Santa Barbara and across the Central Coast. The Ota family constructed the brick structure by hand in the 1960s. The one-story instruction studio area is comprised of a hardwood floor surrounded by large mirrors and white benches. Two signature chandeliers dangle inside, and many dance awards and photographs hang from the walls.

These world-class champion ballroom dance teachers spent decades instructing ballroom dancing, aikido, etiquette and other skills that served thousands of people, both young and old.

The Otas continue to offer classes to the community. Miye is recognized as one of the founding members of the Goleta Chamber of Commerce, and the only woman on its board. Miye, along with a small group of Goleta businessmen, advocated for the development and implementation of major topics affecting business, including a sanitation district, educational activities, public infrastructure projects and sponsoring community events.

After all of the years, all of the experiences, what does Miye enjoy about Goleta?

"I love Goleta, it's my home...it's changing all the time, but I just love it."

Celebrating History, Culture and Family

EVERY MEMBER OF THE Harwood Family—from the parents, Dacia and Riley, to their sons, Jack and Skyler—is deeply connected to the local community through work, play and artistic expression. They are involved with many local groups and events and it would be difficult to find someone in Goleta who doesn't know a member of this amazing family.

Their story begins in 1995. While on the quest for the perfect pair of sunglasses, Riley met Dacia at a sunglass store she was managing at La Cumbre Plaza. She was finishing up her history degree at UC Santa Barbara and Riley had just joined the Santa Barbara Police Department. Riley came back to buy a few more pairs of sunglasses before asking Dacia out on a date...and the rest is history.

After the couple eloped in Maui, the pair settled in Goleta and continued to build their careers. Dacia continued with the retail chain, traveling frequently and opening stores across the west coast. Riley worked his way up the ranks at the Police Department, serving in many roles such as the Public Information Officer and Special Events Coordinator.

Before their first son Jack was born, Dacia left her job for a more flexible schedule planning a few destination weddings and to spend time at home with him. Easing back into a work, she found a new role at the Goleta Valley Historical Society, stewards of Rancho La Patera & Stow House.

Dacia was Goleta Valley Historical Society's first staff member and she stayed with the organization for more than 13 years. She started Music at the Ranch, a summer concert series, and worked with Old Spanish Days to begin Fiesta Ranchera, a local favorite and the only official Fiesta event in Goleta. Fiesta history and Old Spanish Days is near and dear to her heart, especially with her son Jack being an avid Flamenco dancer.

"Working for the Historical Society was such a great growing experience for me," says Dacia. "We have so many amazing lifelong volunteers. I've learned so much from their dedication to local history and truly about the type of person I want to be."

At the age of 3, Jack took his first Flamenco class and was immediately infatuated with the foot movement and sounds. He has been dancing for nearly 12 years and performs in a variety of shows throughout the year. Their youngest son, Skyler, has followed in his older brother's footsteps and has recently started taking Flamenco classes. Their dancing feet come from their father, Riley, who was a ballroom dancer and studied at Miye and Kenji Ota's studio in college.

To further his craft, Dacia and Jack have made two trips to southern Spain to participate in the Jerez Flamenco festival and experience this traditional Spanish dance.

A few years into working for the Historical Society in Goleta, Dacia was recruited to also work part time for the Santa Barbara Historical Museum. Last year she accepted the position of Deputy Director.

Throughout his career, Riley was honored with several accolades for his work in the City of Santa Barbara. After 28 years of service, he retired as a Sergeant in 2018 to take the opportunity to spend more time with his children.

"It's important to us to immerse our kids in the local history and culture," said Dacia, "and this is an amazing community to do that in."

THE HARWOOD FAMILY

Housing Trust Fund's loan program helps first-time homebuyers enter the market

The Housing Trust Fund of Santa Barbara County launched their down payment assistance loans in 2018 and have already helped four first-time homebuyers purchase an entry-level home.

The nonprofit organization's South Coast Workforce

Homebuyer Program was designed to help first-time homebuyers get into an expensive market. The secondary loans—up to $100,000, or 16.5 percent of the purchase price—help prospective buyers make a 20 percent down payment and qualify for conventional mortgage financing.

"It's a huge leg up for a lot of folks, with the goal that they can put 20 percent down," said Jennifer McGovern, President and CEO of the Housing Trust Fund.

The new Workforce Homebuyer Program loans will be given to South Coast employees who range from low income to upper-middle income, and they are eligible for homes purchased between Carpinteria and Buellton/Santa Ynez Valley.

"It won't help everyone, but it will help lots of people get into an entry-level home who would otherwise not be able to," McGovern said.

The Workforce Homebuyer Program has $3.5 million in capital, so the nonprofit organization can award 35 initial loans of up to $100,000, which carry 5.25 percent interest, fixed for 10 years.

The Housing Trust Fund has partnered with five local banks on the Workforce Homebuyer Program: Rabobank, American Riviera Bank, Community West Bank, Pacific Premier Bank and Montecito Bank & Trust.

McGovern, who has worked in housing and community development since the 1970s, said she and the Housing Trust Fund's board of directors believe people should live where they work so they can put down roots and participate in the community — such as coaching a child's team after school.

“This program will help lots of people get into an entry-level home who would otherwise not be able to.”

Commercial Real Estate

Demand remains strong for Goleta industrial and retail space

Commercial sales on the South Coast in 2018 did not quite match the remarkable levels generated in the prior five years. The impacts of the Thomas Fire and Montecito debris flow set a more subdued pace for most of the year.

There were several significant purchases in Goleta. The City of Goleta bought the former Direct Relief International property on South La Patera Lane where they are developing a new multi-modal train station, construction is expected to be complete by 2023. The off-market sale of 75 Robin Hill Rd in Goleta for $27 million, and RAF Pacifica's purchase of five entitled parcels in Goleta's Cabrillo Business Park, listed for $26 million were two significant sales last year.

Goleta's lease transactions for the year totaled more than 600,000 square feet for the first time on record. However, 39% of that area took the form of renewals, and Goleta's net absorption was just +12,000 sf. There were several notable deals in the fourth quarter, including: Advanced Vision Science renewing their Thornwood location; CenCal Health leasing a building on Ekwill St; Northrop Grumman renewed their lease on South La Patera Lane; and Google signed an expansion at 301 Mentor Dr, bringing its footprint there to 54,648 sf and leaving the property fully leased for the first time since Mentor left.

Goleta's vacancy rate maintained a trajectory of gradual contraction, landing at 8.5% at year-end. Offsetting much of the record-breaking leasing activity mentioned above, several large spaces became available in 2018. The space at 71 S Los Carneros Rd is reflected in the 8.5% year-end vacancy rate, but Apeel Sciences leased the entire space in early 2019.

2019 is expected to be a similar year with the market more sensitive to price and location. Rental rates, in general, are stable with no expectation of significant growth in 2019.

Hayes Commercial Real Estate*

Target is poised to fill a niche in Goleta, and is planning to stay for a while after signing a very long-term lease on the former Kmart building.

Santa Barbara Cider Brings New Flavor to Old Town

OLD TOWN GOLETA HAS long been home to a variety of international eateries and hidden gems, but in recent years we have seen many new and exciting small businesses pop up that have made this charming neighborhood even better.

Santa Barbara Cider Company opened their doors on Rutherford Street in 2017 and quickly became a local favorite!

They are bringing a variety of flavors to the brew scene in Goleta, offering 12 ciders on tap that are constantly rotating with over 60 recipes in the queue.

Co-owners, Ben Schroeder, Nik Shaefer and Twilight Robin have come together to create delicious cider, fun names and a unique, family-friendly environment. They have built a team with a variety of expertise to create unique ciders and experiences.

Having a daughter with celiac disease, Ben started exploring the need for gluten-free beverages a few years ago. He started brewing hard cider in his garage and friends and family kept asking for more! It quickly grew from a hobby into a profession. All of their Hard Ciders are gluten free and made on dedicated gluten free equipment.

Reclaimed wood barrel siding and metal shipping container pieces line the Old Town tasting room. The relaxed tasting room has board games to play, music in the air, and food service usually available right outside, from wood-fired pizzas to the latest food truck

With a focus on their local customers and producing delicious cider with real ingredients, SB Cider has continued to grow at a steady pace over the last year and a half.

Santa Barbara Cider makes it a priority to connect with the community. They have supported several non-profit fundraisers and donated cider and their space for local events. They have become a gathering space in Old Town Goleta, hosting trivia nights and showcasing themed events.

Goleta Lemon Festival

Celebrating Heritage and Benefitting over 25 Area Non-Profits

What once began in 1890 with rancher named Sherman Stow and his 600 acres of lemon orchards has slowly transformed into an annual celebration of the iconic fruit that today defines the local region. The California Lemon Festival in Goleta has become one of the most anticipated annual events in Santa Barbara County.

Benefiting over 25 local non-profits and providing over 1,000 community service hours, the 28th Annual Lemon Festival is gearing up for another sweet year!

Organized by the Goleta Chamber of Commerce and sponsored by local businesses, the Lemon Festival is the community event of the year. The festival provides sumptuous lemon food, fantastic family atmosphere and an abundance of live entertainment. Among the wildly popular pie-eating contests, local arts and crafts, lemon-flavored foods and local freshly brewed lemon ale, the festival provides the setting in which family, friends and visitors can gather to enjoy our community.

ACTIVITIES

From bounce houses, to the euro bungee, there are over 20 activities and entertainment to please a crowd of all ages. Adults can tour local craft booths, take a climb on the rock wall or a photo at the photo wall. Kids are also invited to discover "Safety Street," an interactive and informational display where they can climb on a fire truck, explore an ambulance and meet police dogs, firefighters and police officers. Representatives from various safety departments are always on hand to answer questions and curious thoughts.

LEMON PIE & SAVORY BITES

Don't miss the one time a year to get your lemon meringue pie from Anna's Bakery! The Lemon Festival offers a host of food booths, sponsored by community non-profit organizations and local restaurants. Lemon-flavored chicken, sherbet and cotton candy are among a few of the treats with freshly made lemon meringue pies and lemon bars as crowd favorites. Other ethnic and savory foods are available for those on lemon overload.

LEMON LIBATIONS

Locally owned and operated Hollister Brewing Company, M.Special Brew Co. and Santa Barbara Cider Company are brewing Lemon Ale and Cider. The Signature Flight Support Lemon Lounge offers shade, seating and TV's showing college and NFL football both days.

ENTERTAINMENT

Continuous live entertainment by local musical groups and dancers fill the air as a complement to the fresh aroma of crisp, freshly cut lemons. The sounds and smells extend across to the adjacent lot where you can find the Goleta Fall Classic Car and Street Rod Show on Saturday. With scores of cars on display, this show is guaranteed to spark the curiosity of the young and old alike.

LEMON DINNER AT THE RANCH: CELEBRATING GOLETA'S HERITAGE AND CULINARY EXCELLENCE

Each September, community members gather in the gardens at Rancho La Patera and Stow House to celebrate the heritage of the Goleta Lemon Festival and our local culinary treasures.

The evening mirrors a farm-to-table dinner, where local chefs prepare a three-course meal with local, fresh ingredients inspired by the lemon.

Attendees enjoy local wine and craft beer all on the grounds where the first Lemon Festival was held. The unique dining experience celebrates lemons, good food and our unique community.

Next Lemon Dinner: Thursday, September 12, 2019

LEMON RUN

The kick off to the festival is the week before at the Lemon Run. The run is put on by the Goleta Education Foundation and proceeds benefit their efforts to enhance Goleta Schools.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

Mark your calendar for September 28 & 29, 2019—and make sure you do not miss the exciting atmosphere, lively activities, educational experiences, local arts and crafts, and delicious food.

Be sure to grab your family and friends and celebrate the historic Goleta lemon at the 2019 Goleta Lemon Festival at Girsh Park.

The Lemon Festival is put on by the Goleta Chamber of Commerce

A young man, Nolan Montgomery, is captured in a dynamic, mid-air pose against a dark background. He is wearing a striped, long-sleeved shirt, a red neckerchief, brown suspenders, and brown trousers. He is holding a rolled-up document or newspaper in his right hand, which is raised high. His left arm is extended to the side, and his legs are spread wide in a jumping or dancing motion. He is wearing brown leather shoes. A yellow horizontal bar is positioned across the upper part of the image, containing the name 'NOLAN MONTGOMERY' in white capital letters.

NOLAN MONTGOMERY

“I plan to keep working, so my dreams can become a reality. I’m excited for college but I will miss Goleta!”

NOLAN MONTGOMERY

Goleta's Student of the Year is a Rising Star

NOLAN MONTGOMERY HAS been performing since he was five years old. Now a senior at Dos Pueblos High School, Nolan starred in the last two productions of the Dos Pueblos Theater Company and will soon be heading off to college to perfect his craft.

Nolan was born and raised in Goleta. His parents Jenna and Sean are both teachers in the Goleta Union School District.

In 2017, Nolan was awarded the title of Santa Barbara Teen Star. The popular local show was created by Santa Barbara native Joe Lambert as a way for students to learn about scholarship opportunities and the music industry.

"Teen Star was such an amazing experience, and taught me so much about the music industry, and who I want to become as an artist," said Nolan.

In 2018, The Dos Pueblos Theatre Company presented Disney's "Newsies, The Musical," under the guidance of critically acclaimed director Clark Sayre. DPHS was one of only five schools in the country to perform the big musical, including a gender-blind cast of more than 70 students. Montgomery led the cast playing the role of Jack Kelly.

After the tragic Thomas Fire and subsequent Montecito Mudflow incident in early 2018, Nolan organized a tribute benefit concert that brought together talented youth performers from across the County. The event raised over $8,000 for the United Way: Thomas Fire and Flood Fund.

"The Benefit Concert was probably the most inspiring experience of my life," said Montgomery. "I thought that I could use the musical talents of the youth in Santa Barbara and Goleta to help bring joy back into the community"

Montgomery recently wrapped his role in Dos Pueblos Theater Company's 2019 show, Westside Story, where he played the lead, Tony. Nolan claims this was his favorite production yet as it is the first show he truly felt fearless.

In addition to theater, Nolan has been involved with DPNews since his sophomore year. Next year, he will be attending Boston Conservatory at Berklee College of Music, pursuing a BFA in Musical Theatre.

"My dream, since I was in first grade, is to become a successful Broadway performer," said Nolan. "Basically, I have worked my entire life on perfecting my craft, and I plan to keep working, so my dreams can become a reality."

The Spark of Creativity

From rigorous academics spring exceptional performances and exhibitions

WHEN DISTINGUISHED AUTHOR Joyce Carol Oates was crafting her new play “Bad Touch,” she brought it to UC Santa Barbara’s LAUNCH PAD.

A program of the Department of Theater and Dance, LAUNCH PAD invites professional playwrights to campus to develop new works. Following a public reading of the play, Oates chatted with the audience, presenting a rare opportunity to interact with one of the country’s literary luminaries.

Such is only one example of the diverse arts experiences available to the community by way of UC Santa Barbara. The campus renowned for its groundbreaking research in science and engineering also is home to vibrant programs in the arts. Throughout the year audiences are treated to a wide and eclectic variety of concerts, theater and dance performances and exhibitions that feature students and faculty.

While UC Santa Barbara Arts & Lectures presents concerts and dance performances by world-renowned artists, talks by groundbreaking authors and film series on campus and in Santa Barbara-area venues, the academic programs fall squarely within the university’s teaching mission.

“Performances and exhibits are at the heart of UC Santa Barbara’s robust fine arts scene,” said John Majewski, the Michael Douglas Dean of Humanities and Fine Arts. “We are continually impressed with the work of our distinguished faculty and talented students, and we greatly appreciate the generous support they receive from the local community.”

Take the music department. Collectively, its 26 ensembles have virtually every genre covered. The award-winning UC Santa Barbara Opera Theatre presents both fully staged operas and selections of opera scenes by composers from Mozart to Verdi to Massenet. And the World Music Series features free, public performances by top artists in the Santa Barbara area.

“Throughout the year, we present over 160 events,” said Scott Marcus, department chair and director of the Middle East Ensemble. These include lectures and master classes by visiting scholars and performers. “Our talented students and faculty give the communities of Goleta and Santa Barbara the chance to hear unique and often rarely-performed music right in their own backyard.”

Also in that backyard: UC Santa Barbara’s Art, Design & Architecture Museum, which offers multiple special exhibitions and events every year. It also regularly rotates installations from its permanent collections, featuring old masters, American realists, contemporary and multimedia artists and more.

Among the most impressive of the AD&AM’s holdings is its Architecture and Design Collection (ADC), the largest of its kind in North America, and especially strong on the Southern California built environment.

“We own archives of numerous architects who shaped a new concept of life by adapting the principles of architectural modernism to local climate and resources, a concept which continues to inspire contemporary practices today,” said Silvia Perea, curator of the ADC, which boasts over 1 million items all told.

“There are numerous ways in which our audiences can participate in our programs and make the museum part of their daily lives,” Perea added. “That’s what drives us!”

What drives the scholars and performers in theater and dance? A passion for their craft and for sharing it with audiences both on campus and off. And from quarterly undergraduate dance concerts to full-scale productions by professional company-in-residence Santa Barbara Dance Theater, LAUNCH PAD and the inventive Shakespeare-focused program Naked Shakes, the possibilities are seemingly endless.

“The UCSB Department of Theater and Dance aims to set the highest professional standards in training, research and performance,” said Irwin Appel, department chair and professor of theater. “We feature some of the finest young talent in California. Our BFA programs in acting and in dance are unique to the UC system, and many of our graduates have gone on to successful careers. We produce exciting new work and reimagined classics, and we believe we make some of the highest quality theater and dance on the Central Coast.”

Serving the Community for More than 160 Years

BEHIND THE GATES of the 21-acre St. Vincent's campus, you'll find a variety of programs and opportunities supporting our community and changing lives.

From its inception in 1858 as the first orphanage and English speaking school in Santa Barbara, St. Vincent's has continued to meet the needs of the community. Today it provides a NAEYC accredited Early Childhood Education Center, A Family Strengthening Program, and the largest community of low-income housing on one campus in the City. After school programs are provided at St. Vincent's Gardens and an Aging Well Program at Villa Caridad. Seniors participate in a variety of social activities from art to Tai Chi, ballroom dancing and cooking classes.

In addition to the variety of programs provided in support of its low income housing, St. Vincent's is recognized for its long career, dating back to beginning of World War I when women left the home to go to work, in Early Childhood Education and its very successful Family Strengthening Program.

The Early Childhood Education Center offers childcare and preschool to children from six weeks to five years of age. The Center is open year-round, providing high-quality affordable childcare and quality education for up to 98 children. The Family Strengthening Program provides a safe home to formerly homeless single mothers and their children. This 27-month life-transforming program provides parenting education classes, individual counseling, job placement and educational opportunities, while developing independent living skills. This program inspires participants to become healthy in mind, body and spirit, instilling confidence and improving self-esteem.

"It is a one of a kind program," said Rosa Paredes, President & CEO of St. Vincent's. "We have graduations each year and the moms have remarkable success stories, from getting their degree, to finding a stable job and a safe home for their family."

St. Vincent's is the oldest social service agency in Santa Barbara and they continue to innovate and adapt to the needs of the community. In 2018, the Daughters of Charity at St. Vincent's, in partnership with the Franciscan Friars of the Old Mission Santa Barbara, opened the Fr. Virgil Cordano Center to address the needs of the homeless in our community. The day center is open to anyone needing guidance and support. Staff is on hand to help people find the services they need at the Center or another local non-profit. Visitors can do laundry, take a nap, or charge their phone. If visitors need to get somewhere and can't afford it, the Center provides bus tokens, and much more. The Center is taking a progressive approach to supporting the needs of homeless by providing a sense of belonging and not pressuring them to reveal any personal information until they are ready.

"We have programs from birth to the end of life," said Paredes. "There is so much going on behind these gates."

Rosa Paredes has served as their President and CEO since 2017, previously serving as the organization's Chief Financial Officer. Their Executive Council leads a variety of programs targeting those often overlooked in our community. St. Vincent's maintains a tradition of excellence in the non-profit sector and for its ongoing leadership in creating a diverse work environment.

TONY VALLEJO

Giving Back to the Community that Raised Him

TONY VALLEJO HAS A HEART and passion for our beautiful city rooted in the values of family, fellowship and hard work.

Born and raised in town, Tony didn't go far to receive his accounting degree from UC Santa Barbara and start his career at local CPA firm, Bartlett, Pringle, & Wolf.

He met his wife, Sandra, while he was auditing her company and the pair married in 1998. They have two children, Marissa and Thomas, who both grew up here.

“I like the small town feel of Goleta, knowing my neighbors, knowing my kids are safe because I know my community.”

For many years, Tony volunteered at church and his children's school. But he credits the start of his volunteer career to Gil Garcia for talking him into joining the Hispanic Council of the Santa Barbara Chamber, his first time serving on a board of directors. Today, Tony sits on nearly a dozen boards and committees including Knights of Columbus, Teddy Bear

Cancer Foundation, UCP Work, Bishop Diego High School, Goleta Chamber of Commerce, Goleta Christmas Parade, and Go Red for Women Steering Committee, just to name a few. He is currently serving as president of the United Boys & Girls Club of Santa Barbara County and is the incoming president of Goleta Evening Rotary Club.

At the heart of Tony's core is service and true love for this town he calls home.

“I like the small town feel of Goleta,” says Vallejo. “I like knowing my neighbors. Running into friends at the grocery store. Knowing my kids are safe because I know my community.”

Vallejo served on the Goleta City Council from 2014-2016 after being appointed due to a vacant seat.

Tony contributes to the spirit of Goleta in many ways. He helped organize the very first Goleta Old Town Christmas Parade, hauled 80 bags of trash during the first Goleta Old Town Street Clean Up, and oversees the financials at the Goleta Lemon Festival.

In addition to his volunteer work, Tony has served local businesses through his CPA work advising local small business owners. He mentors aspiring CPAs, taught Catechism to local high school youth, speaks to student entrepreneurs at Women's Economic Ventures, and is always available to meet his clients and mentee's needs. He has worked for a number of local CPA firms in town before starting his own business in 2016. This year, he will be merging his practice with local firm Nicholson & Schwartz.

The Best of Both Worlds

Unique courses make Goleta the ultimate golf destination

IF YOU THINK GOLF courses are just different combinations of green grass and sand, you haven't experienced golf in Goleta. Yes, you'll find lush fairways and smooth, fast greens. But you'll also find three distinct courses just a short drive from one another in one of the best vacation spots around.

Rancho San Marcos (rsm1804.com, 805.683.6334) is framed by beautiful mountain and valley views, where wild turkeys might be a casual observer to the round. Just down the scenic San Marcos Pass, Glen Annie Golf Club (glenanniegolf.com, 805.968.6400) has the Channel Islands and Pacific Ocean as the backdrop. And a few paces away, the ocean becomes a major player at Sandpiper Golf Club (sandpipergolf.com, 805.968.1541), which Golf Digest named to its list of the Top 100 Public Golf Courses.

Start at Rancho San Marcos, deep on the valley floor of the Santa Ynez Mountains. This Robert Trent Jones Jr.-designed course is surrounded by beautiful lake and mountain views. Centuries-old oak trees and historic ranch buildings dot the property, and the course blends seamlessly with this natural footprint.

It's only a 15-minute drive south to the foothills of Santa Barbara to get to Glen Annie Golf Club. The front nine plays around lakes with waterfall features, and mountain-front holes offer ocean and Channel Island views. This course is more forgiving than Rancho San Marcos and is always in great shape. Bonus: There's a great craft-beer selection on the beverage cart; after your round, enjoy drinks on the patio at the Frog Bar & Grill.

From Glen Annie, travel three miles down Highway 101 and head straight for the Pacific. That's where you'll find Sandpiper Golf Club. On a seaside bluff, this course boasts ocean and mountain views from every hole — you're closer to the ocean here than on any hole at Pebble Beach. Golf Digest named this 7,000-yard, links-style course one of the Top 100 Greatest Public Golf Courses for 2015-2016.

THE DREAM 18

Imagine playing these six iconic holes from each course. Share your experiences with #SBdream18

SANDPIPER GOLF CLUB

NO. 6 Par 3 – Runs parallel to the Pacific Ocean, with a view of the coast and Channel Islands

NO. 10 Par 4 – The slight dog-leg left makes for a difficult tee shot

NO. 11 Par 3 – This tee shot, toward the ocean, is one of the best in California

NO. 12 Par 4 – This uphill dog-leg right plays 347 yards from the championship tee, which is located off the beach

NO. 13 Par 5 – Runs parallel to the Pacific Ocean; the tee box sits 200 feet above the beach

NO. 18 Par 3 – Over the water makes for a tough finishing hole

RANCHO SAN MARCOS

NO. 5 Par 3 – It's all carry over water; the green is large and undulating

NO. 6 Par 5 – Plays dead into the prevailing wind

NO. 9 Par 4 – A precise tee shot is required with out of bounds right and native grass down the left

NO. 14 Par 3 – The signature hole is all carry over a large ravine from an elevated tee

NO. 15 Par 4 – A difficult downhill with deep bunkers on the right and a long, narrow green

NO. 18 Par 5 – A large bunker complex guards the fairway

GLEN ANNIE GOLF CLUB

NO. 1 Par 4 – Uphill, slight dog-leg right, "Toughest Starting Hole in the County"

NO. 3 Par 4 – Elevated tee, scenic lake in front of green

NO. 7 Par 5 – Set up and approach shots offer great risk reward

NO. 11 Par 3 – Spectacular ocean views from one of the highest elevations on the course

NO. 12 Par 4 – A big drive from this elevated tee may find the green

NO. 16 Par 4 – Great views of cascading lakes and the city in the distance

Exploring Stow House & Rancho La Patera

Equal in beauty as it is rich in history

Nestled between Los Carneros Road and La Patera Lane, among towering trees and lush gardens, stands a Goleta landmark that boasts one of the most serene and bucolic properties in all of Goleta. Those who work here, volunteer here, and attend our events have a special connection with this unique property, equal in beauty as it is rich in history. Rancho La Patera & Stow House has long been a cherished part of the local Goleta community since the 1960s.

In addition to our already-celebrated events such as Fiesta Ranchera, the Old-Fashioned 4th of July, seven free weeks of Music at the Ranch, the beloved Fiddlers' Convention & Festival, and our Holiday at the Ranch, Rancho La Patera & Stow House is encouraging guests to think of the gardens and grounds as a gathering place.

Enjoy the lawns and adjoining groves of trees—spend a Sunday picnicking in the shade of our historic trees and let the kids run around on our fabulous lawns!

Stow House will be hosting Tractor Sundays, a time for the whole family to enjoy. Free and open to the public from 11am-2pm, come and explore our Ranch Yard and Museum Store, bring your picnic lunches, your blankets, and enjoy the day on our beautiful property. Docent-guided tours are also available Saturdays and Sundays at 2pm and 3pm. Suggested donation is $5 for adults. Kids under 12 free. Member Mondays is another event in the works to allow us the opportunity to celebrate our members and give them exclusive access to private talks and obscure artifacts in our collection, all while listening to acoustic music and sipping local wines.

Join us, if it's for the first time, or the first time in a long time. We are your neighbors. We are Goleta. We are the Good Land!

JOIN THE FUN AT CAMP STOW

Connecting with nature, unplugging from the device world, building lasting friendships, all of this and more are things that your child can learn this summer at Camp Stow at Rancho La Patera & Stow House! Join us this summer as we launch our first outdoor summer camp lead by our amazing Education Coordinator Lisa Potter along with an energetic team of instructors. $200/participant for children ages K-3rd grade. Camp Dates: June 10th-14th, August 5th-9th, and August 12th-16th. 9am-1pm each day. Each child should come to camp with a packed lunch and snack.

City of Goleta

Community engagement is important to the City. In 2018, the City's first Public Engagement Commission was appointed to address specific topics such as Council compensation, Council meeting start times, the concept of a charter city, and the term of mayor. They also provide input for reaching out to a greater number of residents. Of the seven appointed commissioners, one is a youth appointee who provides a unique perspective.

In 2019, the City launched LEAD Goleta—the City's first community academy, for residents to LEARN EMPOWER ADVOCATE and DISCUSS Goleta issues. The inaugural group of 25 residents learned about the different components of local government and how to become more involved with the City.

Goleta's newest park, Jonny D. Wallis Neighborhood Park, opened with great fanfare in the spring of 2019 and includes a number of exciting amenities including a skate plaza, multi-purpose field, basketball court, handball court, concrete ping-pong tables, bocce ball court, pickleball court, Bankshot basketball court (the first of its kind on the west coast!), walking path, picnic areas, fitness nodes and more! This four-acre park tucked into Old Town Goleta is the City's largest public park.

Another popular event in Goleta is the Dam Dinner, which started in 2012, will be held for the on August 17, 2019, from 5-7 p.m. The idea for the event was hatched at a Love of Goleta workshop in which participants shared what they love about our City and brainstormed on how to further create community. Every year at this event, people share a meal (either homemade or purchased from a local food truck) at the Lake Los Carneros Dam, a picturesque spot in Goleta. Since its inaugural event in 2012, the dinner has grown to over 400 people. This casual event brings people of all ages out to get to know one another over dinner, live music and a good time.

Come join us in the Goodland—a great place to live, work and play!

LIFE IS GOOD IN THE GOODLAND.

Goleta was incorporated in 2002 and sits near the coast of Central California. Our City's eight square miles are nestled between the Santa Ynez Mountains and Pacific Ocean, offering unparalleled scenic beauty. More than 28,000 people live in Goleta, and many more commute to work here. The City is on the cutting edge of the entrepreneurial business community. For a small city, there are lots of large, well-known companies who make their home in Goleta, and new entrepreneurs are popping up each year.

The City is governed by a five-member, elected City Council. As a General Law City, it has a Council-Manager form of government. This is the system of local government that combines the political leadership of elected officials in the form of a Council with the managerial experience of an appointed local government manager. The Goleta City Council serves as a legislative body. In 2018, residents voted for the first directly-elected Mayor to serve a two-year term, whereas previously, the Mayor was selected for a one-year term by the other Council members.
